Start good. Won driving. Second and third easily.
Hannibal Bey was the runner up all the way. Rosen put up a strong ride, caught Ivers napping and put it over on him just at the wire. Sliver Stocking was running well within herself a sixteenth out, but Ivers fell asleep. Altair's race the best he has shown so far. Camera sloughed shortly after the start and was unable to make up the ground she lost.

Fight fans of Ogden-in fact of the West-will watch with interest the come of tonight's boxing match between Jimmy Reagan of California and Gene McGovern of Milwaukee, which will take place at the Fair Grounds to Both boys are trained to the min-ute, and the prospects for a fast and snappy bout, with a finish within the limit are bright. Reagan, with the clever, lightning boxing, and McGovern with his boring-in, never-give-way method of attack, fashioned after the style of the famous Battling Nelson, ought to give Ogden euthusiasts the contest of their lives.

Reagan finished his hard training Wednesday, when he boxed his last practice bout with Kid Harrison, and yesterday confined himself to a little bag punching, a spin on the road and a plunge with a rub down.

McGovern has done his work of preparation in Salt Lake City, and, according to reports from that place, is in tip-top condition. Gene has quite a following from Sait Lake, and it is ex-pected that he wil be backed heavily in the betting.

Dopesters are somewhat ata loss as to the outcome of the mill. $500 was wagered vesterday on Reagan at 8 to 10, and the money was quickly snap-ped up by Salt Lakers. This, however, does not mean that McGovern is the unanimous choice of the Salt Lake fans. Reagan has his adherents there and but little money is being offered either way, because of the apparent evenness of the men's abilities, and

The Ogden Racing association has set aside today as Ladies' Day at the Fair Grounds track, when the members of the fair sex will be the guests of the association and will be admitted to the grounds and grand-stand free of charge. The ladies will also be admitted free of charge on Monday and Friday next week.

The card prepared by Handicapper Frank St. D. Skinner for the approval of the racegoers this afternoon is one of exceptional merit and ought to prove a big drawing card.

That the officials are determined to eliminate rough riding on the part of the jockeys and give the racegoers good, clean sport was made manifest yesterday, when Judge Skinner, after Gaugel's exhibition of rough riding on Alaxie in the second race, promptly suspended the boy and notified him that he would not be allowed to accept any more mounts at the meet

Gaugel's rough work was too palpable to be overlooked, and it was the cause of no little astonishmen among the spectators who witnessed it. Gaugle is one of the cleverest riders in the west, and it does seem a pity that in his eagerness to win races he must perchance attempt to spoil the chances of some horse other than the one he is riding. It was while the field was passing the stand the first time around that Gaugel, who was riding Alaxie, cut sharply across Inauguration, while the two horses were running neck and neck, forcing Gargan on Inauguration to pull up. But for the interference the result of the race might have been different, for despite the setback Inauguration was running strong at the end and was only beaten by Alaxie by the slightest margin.

After the race both Gargan and Gaugel were called into the stand and questioned, after which the indefinite suspension of Gaugel was announced. There were some who declared that Alaxie should have been disqualified, but the judges decided to let the numbers stand as the horses finished. Another exhibition of rough work came in the fourth race, when Pick-ens, astride of Balronia, sharply cut off Raleigh P. D. on the far turn, causing the Johnson colt to be thrown out of his stride, when he ceased to be a factor in the race. The offend-

heels on the ground for two days by way of punishment for his sharp tac

Ariouette captured the feature of the afternoon, the Standard handi-cap, from a good field of sprinters. Callahan got her off in front, and after standing off Balronia's challenge the entire distance the mare closed resolutely and won in a smart drive from Baironia, while Sewell easily took the show.

Hannibal Bey won the opening race from Silver Stocking because of Ivers' inability to put up a stronger finish on the latter horse. Rosen on Hannibal Bey punished him unmercifully all through the stretch and never let up until the wire was passed. Ivers, on the contrary, put up a listless finish and did not help his mount any.

Snowball won her second race in as many days when she outgamed Tube Rose in the third race and got the decision by a short neck. It was nip and tuck between the two all down the final sixteenth, with Snowball getting her neck in front at the end. Zick Abrams lay in third posi-tion all the way and got show money.

The old campaigner Captain Burnett made good for his owner by scampering home an easy winner in the mile race. The captain headed the procession the entire journey and was never seriously menaced at any stage, winning in a big romp. Oberon collared Knight of Ivanhoe in the closing strides and got the place. The light weighted Coonskin never had a look-in and was distanced all the way.

The closing race was a big exercise gallop for Netting, which scattered her field from the beginning and won with her rider looking around. Dorothy Ann took the place without any trouble, while Dr. Downie got the show money.

The business session of the savings bank section considered the reports of the committees on postal savings banks and on savings bank laws, which were read by Lucius Teter, and Allen W. Johnston, chairman of their respective committees. These reports are considered important to the bankers by reason of the stand taken by the United States government on the government on the matter of postal savings banks.

The business session of the savings bank section included the address by President Wm. R. Greer of Cleveland, secretary Wm. Hanhart of New York. Edmund D. Fisher of New York City and Newton F. Hawley of Minneapolis. Rev. Robert J. Burdette of Los Angeles, delivered a humorous address on "Thrift."

Edward L. Robinson of Boston was chosen resident of this section, Edward Aitken of Worcester, Mass., vice presi-dent, and William Hanhart of New York was re-elected secretary.

The clearing house section was precided over by Sol Wexler of New Or leans. Business was transacted rapid ly by the delegates of this section af-ter the reports of President Wexler and Secretary Farnsworth were read.

functions Mr. and Mrs. Bostaph, then toured the larger eastern cities including a trip to Toronto, Ontario.

Mr. Bostaph was impressed with the Canadian city. The Dominion's "Model City" the "tram cars" and the administration of the city attracted his interest. In Toronto many of Mrs. Bostaph's friends reside, and the visit there was pleasantly spent,

One of the most noticeable things about the East and Eastern cities, in comparing them with the West, according to Mr. Bostaph, is the lack of that aggressiveness and push, always noticeable in the West.

BLANCHARD BUTTER

Is positively guaranteed to be absolutely pure, clean and wholesome.

One assurance of its purity is the fact that our own people gather the cream daily from the best farms in this country, and bring it direct to our creamery, where it is made into BLANCHARD BUTTER, without being touched by human hands.

But, to make assurance doubly sure, we pasteurize every ounce of this cream in our own plant, one of the best in America. We do this at a cost of $15,000 per annum, to protect our patrons. In foreign countries the law com-pels pasteurization. We do it voluntarily, at heavy expense, and our standard of cleanliness is therefore higher than that set by the health inspectors themselves. Our entire plant is absolutely sanitary in every respect, and every precaution is taken to keep it so. We invite the public to visit and inspect our creamery and see for themselves the ideal conditions under which Blanchard Butter is made.
